

WHAT COLOR IS THE TIP OF THE DEER'S TAIL?

black-tail.

Fun Fact: The most common subspecies of deer in Washington is the Columbian

Odocoileus hemionus columbianus

COLUMBIAN BLACK-TAILED DEER

FOUND

☐

DOES WESTERN TRILLIUM PREFER SUN OR SHADE?

'Wake Robin.'

Fun Fact: This flower blooms just as robins arrive each spring. Thus its nickname:

Trillium ovatum

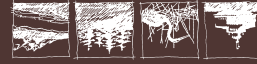

WESTERN TRILLIUM

FOUND

☐

BAINBRIDGE ISLAND LAND TRUST

ISLAND NATURALIST SCAVENGER HUNT II

BAINBRIDGE ISLAND LAND TRUST

BI-LANDTRUST.ORG

Natural wonders abound on Bainbridge Island, and many can be found right in your own backyard. Join our scavenger hunt and discover your inner naturalist. Check the boxes and, if you like, save the file right to your phone. Send a photo of yourself participating in the scavenger hunt to matt@bi-landtrust.org for a mention on Bainbridge Island Land Trust's social media

Name

☐

FOUND

BALD EAGLE

Haliaeetus leucocephalus

Fun Fact: Bald eagles can live 20-30 years in the wild—a relatively long lifespan in the animal kingdom.

IS THE EAGLE FLYING WITH A MATE?

☐

FOUND

RED ALDER

Alnus rubra

Fun Fact: Native Americans used a powder made from the inner bark of the tree as a thickener in soups.

CAN YOU SPOT ANY BIRD'S NESTS IN THE ALDERS?

☐

FOUND

DARK-EYED JUNCO

Junco hyemalis

Fun Fact: Dark-eyed juncos frequently build nests on the ground, concealing them under overhanging grass, logs, rocks, or exposed roots.

WHERE IS THE BIRD FORAGING?

☐

FOUND

EVERGREEN HUCKLEBERRY

Vaccinium ovatum

Fun Fact: Prized for its culinary and medicinal properties, Evergreen Huckleberry is the last of the native berries to flower each year.

DO THE LEAVES OF THE HUCKLEBERRY FEEL SMOOTH OR LEATHERY?